MILLIONS THE "HUMAN BIOMASS" 6,189 (THE WORLD'S HUMAN AND LIVESTOCK POPULATION IN TERMS OF EQUIVALENT HUMAN FOOD REQUIREMENTS) 3,000 937

POPULOUS PLANET-Recent United Nations estimates put the world's population at about three billion people. This figure, however, does not include another, greater population—livestock—upon which man depends and which competes with man for a share of the nutrition produced by plants. Dr. Georg Borgstrom of Michigan State University has converted the world's livestock into "population equivalents": livestock is measured in terms of the energy (calorie) requirements of a 150-pound man. On this basis, energy consumed by all livestock equals that which it would take 10 billion men to consume. Total "human biomass"—human and livestock requirements added together amounts to over 13 billion human units. The U.S. and Russia each has a human biomass above one billion. Chart above is based on Dr. Borgstrom's calculations.

Tapping the tree relieves the pressure. Simply do this: Bore a hole through the lower trunk at downward 45 degree angle starting near the ground level. This alleviates the pressure and perimts the fluxing liquid to drain harmlessly into the soil under the tree.

Once the liquid escapes the fluxing action will cease. Bacteria that cause the condition enter a tree through breaks in the roots or wounds on the

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY TOO MUCH SECRECY

The news policy of this Administration is neither wise nor efficient. It will not last long. It will only stimulate good reporting which has long been absent, particularly from Washington. Secrecy leads to rumors and guesses. Congressman Pelly of Washington asked to be furnished with the names of American firms seeking export licenses to deal with Soviet countries. Such data is available in the Department of Commerce. I quote Representative Pelly:

"While my request has not as yet been for-mally acknowledged, I do know the nature of the reply I shall receive. When Secretary Hodges appeared before the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee on July 11, an opportunity Please address all communications and make all was presented for me to personally ask about the money orders and checks payable to Freeman Publishing Company, Freeman Square. was presented for me to personally ask about the cision had been made not to disclose the names of any firms doing business with the Kremlin."

Why the secrecy' Do the firms in this business need protection from boycott or mayhem? If it is as bad as all that, why would they want to do business with Soviet countries? If Americans are ashamed to do business with Iron Curtain countries, they should not do it. It must be said the policy of secrecy is at least 20 years old. It did not originate in the Kennedy Administration. But that does not alter the fact that we are dealing with it now and a decision concerning it needs to be made now. It will be recalled that when Mikoyan came to this country, he was wined and dined by American businessmen and bankers. The businessmen were

ONE TON OF LION-BURGER—Due to complaints of fishermen and fishing companies, the Alaskan Steller sea lion is being harvested for its meat. For years the sea lion has been preying on valuable fishing stocks. Since its meat is high in protein and there is demand for such meat from fur farms and fish hatcheries of the western and midwestern states, the Department of the Interior in Washington has announced it may be able to solve both problems at once. An experimental harvest in Alaska yielded more than 200 tons of high-protein ground meat. Sea lion meat harvesting could become a booming industry if a sharp reduction in the herd is deemed necessary in Washington.

Coordinates Strong in Sportswear

Sportswear for little girls is all coordinates, in pink-magenta, undiluted blues, greens and golds. Crop or tunic tops with pleated or flared skirts and pants, in solid and plaid combinations, go on Women's Wear Daily finds that most sweaters are dyed to match the big-four colors, used in stripes, solids and a great many jacquards. Sweaters are all long and boxy, with big novelty collars that stand away from the neck, or else no collars at all.

Stretch has extended its impact, and now sportswear houses as well as outerwear houses are doing knit or stretch pants in solids and jacquards to team with a multitude of tops in the line.

Little Girl Coats Are Free and Easy

The sportiest, most suburban looking fabrics tell a good part of the back-to-school coat story. Cotton suede cloth stars in almost every popular-price line, most often lined and/or trimmed in synthetic lamb. More furs, fake or otherwise show up in pile linings, raccoon or lynx collars, teddy-bear coats, and jackets with shaggy fur-trimmed hoods.

Laminates are in for fall. Poplin, twill and corduroy make laminated numbers that look as right for the stadium as the schoolbus. Shapes are loose, styling simple, with slash pockets, saddle stitching, and rugged-looking buttons to carry out the sporty theme. Fleeces and tweeds take simple lines, too, often relying on dolman sleeves, scarf collars or novelty buttons to make a fashion

Dress-up coats are a different story, and here the architecture is what counts. Welts or crossbar seaming makes the fine line of some Paris-inspired numbers that flare almost imperceptibly from

State Picnic Sites Available In New Areas

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)-The state is making available to picnickers and other outdoorsmen and conservationists an additional 7,954 acres in 20 counties.

The State Conservation Department said yesterday it had bought the land in 34 parcels for $134,575 with money from a bond issue authorized by voters.

The land is to be used for camp sites, waterfowl blinds, reforestation tracts and additions to the State Forest Preserve and the Saratoga Springs Reservation. Hunting, fishing, picnicking and, where possible, swimming and boating, will be available in the reforestation tracts, the department said. The purchases raise to 121 the number of parcels acquired by the state for recreational purposes, other than parks, Buttermilk Falls Raquette River, a scenic spot in the Adirondacks, was included in 652-acre tract bought in the Town of Long Lake and added to the forest preserve. The location is 2.3 miles from the state-owned Forked Lake public camp site. Other purchases:

Bostic, Randall Among Favorites in ENYGA Tournament

Championships Open Today at Wiltwyck Club

The Eastern New York Golf Association field was keeping a wary eye on Leon Randall and Harvey Bostic, as the annual three-day Association championships opened with a qualifying round today.

Both local aces are conceded a good chance to win their first leg on the Albany Times-Union

Randall has won everything in sight, except the ENYGA crown and may be in the mood to do it. Bostic is playing well and must be rated a top threat any time he goes into a tournnament. Since the ENYGA takes post entries up to 2:30, the full field would not have been determined until that hour today. First round of match play is scheduled Saturday morning, with a sec-ond round in the afternoon. Semi-final and final rounds in three divisions-A, B and C, are slated Sunday. Strongest opposition to Randall and Bostic is expected to come from the Snyder brothers, John and Billy, of Troy and Battenkill CC; veteran Walter of Pontoosuc Lakes, Pittsfield, who hasn't missed an ENYGA championship in a decade; and the Bates brothers, Bob and Ricky, who lost to Ran-dall in the finals of this year's Wiltwyck Inviitational

Another threat is McGregor's James (Bud) Brophy, consistent-ly in the top ranks in one-day tourneys this season.

Championships will be decided in three classes: A (0-8); B (9-13); C (14 and over). Low 16 in each flight make up the championship group. No handicaps are used other than to determine classes.

John Maury, winner of the Class A championship last year at Shaker Ridge, has turned pro. Aaron Paul, Shaker Ridge, is eligible for a repeat try in "B" but the "C" champion, Mike O'Connell, McGregor, has moved

The Nimrod's Corner

By Old Doc

The Joint Legislative Committee on Natural Resources has champions, will send their ace announced completion of plans for eight public hearings dealing pitcher, Mike Ferraro, against with the proposed wilderness bill introduced for study purposes Granville, 4th District chamat the last session of the state legislature. The bill, sponsored by the committee chairman, R. Watson Pomeroy of Dutchess County, calls for the establishment of 12 areas in the Adirondacks and four in the Catskills to be set aside as wilderness and to receive protection over and beyond the "forever wild" provisions afforded by Article 14 of the State Constitution.

The four areas proposed for the Catskills included Slide Mountain-Panther Mountain, Indian Head-Plateau, Hemlock-Balsam and Westkill Mountains. These were selected by the committee on the basis of comprising more than 10,000 contiguous acres with no habitation, void of public or private roads and moreover, as lying beyond the sights, sounds and odors of civilization. The size of those in the Catskills, varies from 14,000 to 40,000 acres and en-Tony Turck pitched a 5-hit compasses a total of 91,000 acres. The wisdom of the Natural Resource Committee is making an on the spot field trip into all major state holdings in the entire Forest Preserve, can be gleamed from the fact that no one has publicly advocated the inclusion of additional lands within the proposed sections, nor the exclusion of any of such holdings, truly a remarkable achievement for such an emotional issue as the Preserve.

HEARING IN KINGSTON

In order that the purpose of the bill may be fully understood by all who are interested in the Forest Preserve, the eight hearings just announced will be held in all parts of the state including Buffalo and New York City later in the year. One of these meetings has been scheduled for Kingston on Saturday afternoon, September 16th at 1:30 p. m. At that time, in addition to disseminating information concerning the bill, an opportunity will be afforded all persons to fully express themselves in regard to the legislation. Persons wishing to testify at this hearing are requested to notify the Joint Legislative Committee on Natural Resources, Assembly Chambers, Albany, stating their name, address and affilia-

The bill which would establish these wilderness areas comprising a state total of 822,000 acres or about 36 per cent of the two and one half million acres in the Forest Preserve, gives to the Conservation Departmennt the authority to regulate use compatible with their wild nature. What is principally envisioned as a means of affording such protection is the prohibition of jeeps and "doodle-bug" traffic into these regions. With the tremendous increased use of all state forest holdings, the Committee found that ease in reaching these more remote areas in the Catskills and Adirondacks by these mechanized means, along with the airplane and motor boat in the north country, was destroying the beauty and solitude that originally caused the junket in the woods

Summer Slump Hits Fishing

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)-A summer slump has overcome some fishing waters but the State Conservation Department says fishermen are still getting fair to excellent results in other New York fresh and salt-water spots

The department reported these conditions Thursday:

Adirondacks — Stream levels low. Lake trout fishing fairly good in Saranac Lake area. Rainbows being taken in ponds after dark on dry flies. Excellent results with bass fishing on Lake George, where season opened Aug. 1. Outlook for weekend is good.

Mohawk - Hudson-Catskill Region Streams low, fishing slow. Fair for bass fishing in Catskill Mountain reservoirs. Trout fishing is reported fair to good.

Long Island - An abundance of bluefish from New Jersey coast to Montauk Point and into Long Island Sound. Last weekend, a 21pounder caught set a new record for Long Island. Off South Shore. plenty of action from school tuna, bonito (both common and oceanic and marlin. First giant tuna (636 lbs) taken off Montauk this week. Still fair for porgies and weakfish in Peconic bays. Along north shore, the action's from school striped bass, blackfish, porgies, and some fluke.

OFDERMAN

Roger Maris

From Cedar Beach to Jones Beach, a fair run of kingfish; being taken by surf fishermen. Bottom fishing still good to cod, fluke and sea bass

Central and Western New York - Bass fishing good on Cayuga Lake, and walleyes biting well at Honeoye Lake. Stream fishermen in Western New York having good luck with trout (mostly browns) after dark. Still good for bass fishing along lake Ontario, but tapering off in Lake Erie-where walleye angling still remains good, In Lake Chautauqua, musky action slowing down but bass fishing good for both smalland largemouth.
